

Fine Figure

Many women lose their girlish forms after they become mothers. This is due to neglect. The figure can be preserved beyond question if the expectant mother will constantly use during the whole period of pregnancy. The earlier its use is begun, the more perfectly will the shape be preserved.

Mother's Friend not only softens and relaxes the muscles during the great strain before birth, but helps the skin to contract naturally afterward. It keeps unsightly wrinkles away, and the muscles underneath retain their pliability.

Mother's Friend is that famous external liniment which banishes morning sickness and nervousness during pregnancy; shortens labor and makes it nearly painless; builds up the patient's constitutional strength, so that she emerges from the ordeal without danger. The little one, too, shows the effects of Mother's Friend by its robustness and vigor.

Sold at drug stores for $1 a bottle.

THE CITIZENS OF NORFOLK ASSIST

The Trains Will Leave San Francisco on Saturday With Members of The "Fighting First" Aboard Governor Poynter Issues an Announcement.

From Tuesday's Daily.

That the First regiment will be brought home from San Francisco without cost to the soldiers is now a certainty, enough money having been guaranteed by citizens of the state to attain this end. Norfolk helped, in a small way, to secure the amount necessary. G. A. Luikart, D. Rees and Dr. G. F. Keiper contributed $20 each and Mr. Owen secured $100 on the paper he was circulating yesterday, making a total of $160.

Governor Poynter last night issued the following statement to the people of the state regarding the fund:

"Citizens of Nebraska—I am glad to announce to the patriotic citizens of Nebraska that the money for special train to bring home her gallant First Nebraska regiment has all been sent in. Nebraska will bring her boys home in a manner befitting her high appreciation of their worth and the honor they have conferred upon their state. Arrangements will be made for special trains to leave San Francisco next Saturday morning. Each company will be returned direct to their home station. I have sent Adjutant General Barry and Hon. W. L. Stark to San Francisco to attend to the business interests of the state in the contract with the transportation companies.

"I desire to thank and congratulate the citizens of Nebraska for their prompt action and the splendid manner in which they have upheld the good name of the state. I wish to return in this public manner my sincere thanks to Hon. D. E. Thompson of Lincoln, who came to the rescue when the cause had become hopeless, and showed his splendid faith in Nebraska and her people by a pledge of $20,000. I would be glad to thank and congratulate each one of the long list of donors whose pledges range from $1 to $3,000, but the list is too long. Suffice it to say the demonstration is complete and Nebraska shows she is proud of her splendid regiment.

"W. A. POYNTER, Governor."

Bids were submitted by three railroads and the contract was awarded the Burlington route. General Shafter has been instructed to have the troops mustered out by Friday so that they may start for home Saturday.

Funston and the Bear.

Mr. William Allen White, of Emporia, Kan., has spent the week in Chicago, and business has brought him much in the vicinity of the Forest Stream office, so that I have met him frequently.

Mr. White, as, of course, everyone knows, was the author of the famous "What's the matter of Kansas?" editorial which reached such prominence in the last presidential campaign.

He is also the author of the charming "Boyville" stories and of many other magazine contributions. He will go to the United States senate from Kansas as soon as he gets old enough, and we shall hear of him in many different ways as a man prominent in western affairs. Chiefly admirable is Mr. White for his natural bigness of character and charming unaffectedness of disposition. A bit of a sportsman he is, too, and knows his Rockies shrewdly. General Funston, of Kansas, who has made so meteoric a record for himself in Cuba and the Philippines, is a great friend of Mr. White's, and they two have hunted together for many years.

Once upon a time, before the game laws had very much respect given them in Colorado, these two worthies were on a hunting trip in the summer time, out beyond Estes Park. Here in a little valley they came upon a deserted village, some scores of houses without a single inhabitant, the abandoned camp of an earlier mining stampede. They took possession of this town in the name of Kansas, hoisting over it their broad pennant, and when they got tired of living in one house they moved into another.

Mr. Funston, whom Mr. White describes as a shocking bad shot, went out hunting regularly after mountain sheep, and finally succeeded in killing a good ram, which they bore in triumph to the house which at the time they were honoring with their presence. They had disposed of most of their sheep, when, one morning, they were surprised to receive a visit from the game warden. While Mr. Funston entertained this gentleman in the front parlor, Mr. White pulled up a couple of boards in the drawing room and lost the head under the house for the time being. The game warden departed, silenced and apparently convinced.

A few days later than this Mr. Funston went out after raspberries, taking his gun along as usual. He gathered a pail full of berries, which he put in a shady spot and threw his gun down beside him. Wandering a little way from this spot he lay down and went to sleep. He was awakened some time later by an unfamiliar noise, and on sitting up saw a very handsome cinnamon bear making for his pail of berries. It needs only be added that the bear got the berries, the future general of volunteers making a masterly retreat along the mountain side until he reached the bosom of the deserted village aforesaid.—From Forest and Stream.

Supply of Eggs Is Short.

The following review of the egg market in New York City will probably interest Nebraska shippers:

"While the demand for eggs is constantly increasing, the supply shows a disappointing decrease. The speculative element in the market is in consequence expecting higher prices, while the trade in general is only striving to keep up its supply.

"Last year's receipts on the New York markets were over 90,000,000 dozen, but the receipts for the first six months of this year show a decided falling off.

"New York is the largest egg market in the world, and last year handled over $18,000,000 worth of eggs, figured at the average retail price of 29 cents a dozen. "The calico print interests use it is roughly estimated, over 40,000,000 dozen eggs annually, while the coffee roasters, the photographic trades, the cracker and biscuit combines and the chemical trade consumes twice as many. In fact, the grocer is today compelled to compete in the general market against buyers from a dozen manufacturing interests. The leather shoe product trades are also extensive users of eggs for tanning and refining purposes, as are also the several patent food concerns. Wine and liquor jobbers find the egg indispensable in finding, and, in fact when all the other interests have been supplied the grocer is indeed fortunate if he gets what he needs.

"England last year imported over $30,000,000 worth of eggs, but the American egg had hardly any representation in these millions of cases. French, German and especially Canadian eggs reached the English market, to the exclusion of the American article. This is principally due, say the leading dealers, to the fact that under the present tariff, Canada being unable to ship eggs into this country, sends them to Europe. Under these conditions, even if the American supply was in great excess of the demand, which it has never been, competition with Canada would be out of the question."

Labor is in demand and the full dinner pail is at the front of the procession. Sound money and sound sense brought it about. The people can be depended upon to continue the party in power under whose administration of affairs these blessings have been realized.
